This activity is based on the vowel a and features words in the “at” word family. For each exercise, say together the names of all the pictures in that row. Then ask your child to name the first picture on the left of the page again and to draw a circle around the picture that rhymes with it. The two rhyming words at the bottom of the page have been selected for your child to copy. When writing rounded letters, make sure that your child always starts at the top and draws in a counterclockwise direction.
